No. $\frac{S.\ B.}{770}$ OF 1908.

Office of the Surgeon-General
with the Government of Bombay,
Poona, 17th March 1908.

From

SURGEON-GENERAL J. P. GREANY, M.D., I. M. S.,
Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay;

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
General Department, Bombay.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit, for the information of Government, the Annual Report on the Lunatic Asylums of the Bombay Presidency for the year 1907.

2. The Public Works Department have carried out the usual annual repairs to all the asylum buildings. Most of the new works and improvements sanctioned by Government for the various Asylums during the year under report have been executed, and others are nearing completion.

3. Though the accommodation in the Dhárwár Asylum is in many respects admirable, the most serious defects which have been noticed are (1) that there is no separate accommodation for criminal insanes, and (2) that the female Asylum (which is really only a portion of the male one cut off by a dividing wall) is unsuitable for its present purpose. As it is very desirable that criminal insanes should not associate with the non-criminal ones, a proposal is being made that they should be segregated in the present female Asylum which is in every way suitable for them, and that separate accommodation be provided for the female lunatics to the north of the Asylum kitchen, an arrangement which, in addition to removing them from close proximity to the males, would also allow of the former being taken out for exercise in the Asylum compound more frequently than is at present possible.

Moreover, having regard to the great increase in the daily average population of criminal insanes confined in the several Asylums of the Presidency, as shown in the subjoined table, and to the fact that a convalescent block is being utilised to relieve the overcrowding at the Narotamdas Madhavdas Lunatic Asylum, Naupáda, it is imperative that efforts should, as far as possible, be made to provide more room for this class of lunatics in the several Asylums until the Central Asylum at Yeravda is ready :—

	Daily average strength.
1903	109·1
1904	112·2
1905	119·8
1906	132·5
1907	138·6

4. The water-supply at Colába is still somewhat deficient, owing to the great distance from the storage reservoir. The Bombay Municipality however proposes to lay new mains in the Colába District for improving the supply of water generally. At Ratnágiri the Municipality, as usual, was unable to supply the stipulated quantity of water, but as a Government Grant of Rs. 20,000 is to be expended on its water-works, it is hoped that that body will be able to fulfil its original undertaking in the near future.

5. On the statistical statements appended at the end of the report, I beg to make the following remarks :—

Statement No. I deals with the admissions, discharges, etc., of the lunatics in the seven Asylums of the Presidency. On the 1st January 1907 there were 956 lunatics under treatment, of whom 742 were males and 214 females. There were 351 admissions during the year, 286 males and 65 females, including 23 re-admissions (18 males and 5 females). The Poona Lunatic Asylum accounted for an increase of 11 and Ahmedabad of 5 in the number of admissions, whereas the Asylums at Naupáda, Hyderabad, Ratnágiri and Colaba show a decrease of 27, 20, 6 and 4, respectively, over the previous year. The total population of the Asylums was thus 1,307 (1,028 males and 279 females) as compared with 1,287 (1,016 males and 271 females) in 1906. The daily average strength was 741·7 males and 213·8 females—total 955·5 against 927·6 (715·7 males and 211·9 females) in the previous year.

It may here be noticed that the daily average strength of the male population at the Naupáda, Poona, Dhárwár and Ahmedabad Asylums is in excess of the accommodation available, while the number of female insanes shows a steadily increasing tendency in the same direction. At one time the male division at Dhárwár was so very overcrowded that it necessitated the transfer of 2 lunatics to Poona where they were accommodated with difficulty. In his Annual Report the Superintendent of the Narotamdas Madhavdas Lunatic Asylum, Naupáda (Thána), remarks:—"The Asylum provides accommodation for 198 males and 42 females at 140 superficial feet per paying patient and 80 per pauper. But, owing to the excess of non-paying males and females, the floor space was reduced to 76·1 superficial feet for pauper males and 49·1 for pauper females. The total number of female lunatics admitted exceeded the sanctioned accommodation by 23 (17 paupers and 6 criminals), and that of male criminals by 14."

The total number discharged was 281, of whom 234 were males and 47 females; 47 males and 20 females died, leaving 959 under treatment at the end of the year. Of those discharged, 117 males and 23 females are returned as cured against 90 males and 24 females in 1906; 68 males and 18 females are shown as transferred to friends in an improved condition as compared with 50 males and 12 females; and 39 males and 6 females similarly disposed of are returned as not improved against 73 males and 5 females in the previous year. Of the 10 males discharged otherwise, 2 were transferred to Civil Hospitals for treatment and 3 to other Asylums, 3 escaped, 1 was sent for trial and 1 removed from the criminal to the non-criminal list. The percentage of cures to the daily average strength was 14·7 and to the admissions during the year 39·9, as compared with 12·3 and 29·1 respectively in the previous year.

The daily average sick was 17·0 males and 7·2 females, total 24·2 against 26·1 (19·7 males and 6·4 females) in 1906. The general health of the insanes was, on the whole, satisfactory. There was no epidemic disease, except that at Ratnágiri there was an outbreak of dysentery in the months of September, October and November 1907, during which there were 14 cases of this disease with 5 deaths, chiefly among the older inmates. The Superintendent of the Asylum reports "An effort was made to check the disease by boiling the water and paying special attention to the food, but cases continued to occur in spite of these precautions."

The total number of deaths was 67 as compared with 61 in 1906. The mortality was chiefly due to dysentry 14, tubercle of lungs 13, diarrhœa 8, and debility 7. The ratio per cent. of deaths to the daily average strength was 7·0, and to the total admissions 19·1, the corresponding ratios for the previous year being 6·6 and 15·7. At Poona the number of deaths rose from 10 in 1906 to 17 in 1907. Of these, 2 occurred within 1 month, 3 within 3 months, and 1 within 6 months, of their admission into the Asylum. Of the 7 deaths which occurred in the Ratnágiri Asylum, 5, as above stated, were due to dysentry.

Statement No. II is a return of criminal Lunatics. On 1st January 1907 there were 137 such confined in the Asylums, 38 were admitted and 4 re-admitted during the year, making a total of 179, as compared with 189 in the previous year. The daily average strength was 138·6 against 132·5 in 1906.

Statement No. III gives the religion, sex and residence of the lunatics admitted during the year. Hindus contributed 168 to the total admissions, Mahomedans 80, Europeans and Eurasians 56, Native Christians 11 and other castes 36, the corresponding figures for the previous year being 173, 105, 68, 22 and 24, respectively.

Statement No. IV treats of the occupation of those admitted. Labourers furnished the largest number of admissions, viz., 37, mendicants coming next with 36, artisans and domestic servants 30 each, soldiers 27, merchants and traders 17, and clerks and cultivators 16 each. In 35 cases the previous occupation was not reported, and 47 were said to have had no occupation. The remainder in small numbers belonged to various occupations.

Statement No. V.—With regard to ages, 25 were under 20 years on admission, 260 were between 20 and 40 years, 65 between 40 and 60 years, and one was above 60 years.

Statements Nos. VI and VII give the various types and causes of insanity among the lunatics treated. Mania, as usual, was the form of insanity most frequently met with, accounting for 701 cases. The numbers treated for melancholia were 312, dementia 161, idiocy 68, delusional insanity 53 and mental stupor 5. Specific causes were assigned in 698 cases, of which 555 were physical and 143 moral, as compared with 576 and 130 in the previous year. Of the physical causes, the use of intoxicating drugs and over-indulgence in spirituous liquors, previous attacks, fever and mental trouble accounted for most of the admissions. The cause of insanity was unknown in 609 cases against 581 in 1906. Unknown causes still figure largely in the returns owing to the difficulty of obtaining an accurate history of the individual insanes, a great number of whom are either mendicants or have no friends to give an account of them or of their previous habits.

Statement No. VIII gives the cash accounts of the Asylums. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 2,28,833-2-10, as compared with Rs. 1,97,345-2-2 in 1906. If the sums received from paying patients and from the sale of goods to the public and those made over to the Asylums for Asylum purposes, &c., be deducted, the net cost would be Rs. 1,65,902-14-0 against Rs. 1,42,165-3-10 in the previous year. The increase was mainly due to a larger amount having been spent on works done by the Public Works Department, viz., Rs. 29,131-0-11 against Rs. 13,745-8-11 in 1906. The increased charges on diet, bedding and clothing and medicines are attributable to the larger number of insanes treated during the year.

Statement No. IX is a return of the sanctioned establishment as it stood on 31st December 1907. The monthly cost amounted to Rs. 6,125-8-0, as compared with Rs. 5,538-8-0 in 1906.

Statement No. X shows the results of manufactures in the Asylums, which yielded a profit of Rs. 3,997-8-11, as compared with Rs. 3,242-6-3 in 1906. The average number of insanes employed on manufactures was 332·3 (275·7 males and 56·6 females) against 342·0 (284·5 males and 57·5 females) in the previous year.

6. The official visitors were regular in their attendance, and I have much pleasure in reporting that the Superintendents of the Asylums conducted their duties with zeal and ability.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. P. GREANY, M.D., Surgeon-General, I. M. S.,

Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay.
